Filing Deadlines for Deceased Taxpayers

	Period when death occurred	Due date for the final return
General	January 1 – October 31	April 30 of the following year
	November 1 – December 31	Six months after the date of death
Self-Employed (Note)	January 1 – December 15	June 15 of the following year
	December 16 – December 31	Six months after the date of death
Special Rule (Prior year return)	If the deceased died between January 1 and April 30 (or June 15 if they were self-employed) and the immediately prior year return has not been filed, the due date of that return is extended to six months after the date of death

Note: Any balance owing is due according to the general guidelines (typically April 30).

The following information is specific to deceased taxpayers. Additional information will be relevant to the income tax return of the deceased taxpayer. Please refer to the Hendry Warren Personal Income Tax Checklist for other items that may be applicable. The list provided is not exhaustive but represents the most common items required for the preparation of the terminal tax return.

- Signed Authorization Request– If the terminal tax return is the first return Hendry Warren is preparing, please contact our offices to request this form. If Hendry Warren was previously authorized on the deceased individuals account, CRA allows this authorization request to stay in effect after the individual’s death
- Death Certificate.
- Complete copy of the last Will and Testament (and, if applicable, any secondary Will).
- Are any beneficiaries of the last Will and Testament considered a non-resident of Canada for income tax purposes? If yes, please provide the names and country of residence below:
 Beneficiary _____ Beneficiary _____
 Country _____ Country _____
- All income information slips for the individual (T3, T4, T4A, T5, etc.). Please note that these slips may only be issued in February of the following year. This may delay the preparation process of the terminal tax return. We recommend reviewing the income tax return for the previous taxation year to determine which slips to expect this year.

- Medical and dental bills. Please note that if there are a significant number of prescriptions during the year, most pharmacies can provide a summary of prescriptions filled for a specific date range upon request. These summaries are preferable to individual receipts. Note that medical expenses can be claimed for a 24 month period ending in the year of death where such expenses were not claimed in the preceding taxation year.
- T4A(P) slip relating to the CPP Death Benefit.

Were there any additional death benefits received? Yes No

If yes, please indicate the type and amount (if you require more space, please use the space below):

Type of Benefit: _____

Amount of Death Benefit: _____

- Donations made pursuant to the taxpayer's will. Please obtain the official donation receipts from the registered charities. Note that donations made prior to the date of death may still be claimed.

The Income Tax Act permits a tax deferred transfer of property from a deceased taxpayer where the property is transferred to a surviving spouse.

Were all assets transferred to a surviving spouse? Yes No

If no we require the following as applicable:

- The distribution plan of the assets on the date of death.
- Statement of all investment accounts showing the adjusted cost base ("ACB") and fair market value ("FMV") on the date of death. Please feel free to provide your investment advisor's contact information such that we can contact them on your behalf.

Investment Advisor Name: _____

Investment Advisor's Contact Information: _____

- A statement from the RRSP and/or RRIF account showing the FMV on the date of death. A T4RSP or T4RIF slip should be issued in the deceased annuitant's name.
- The FMV, ACB and year of purchase of any real estate owned at the date of death. It can be difficult to estimate the FMV on the date of death. It may be beneficial to get an independent appraisal of the value from a real estate agent.

If yes:

- The transfer of an RRSP or RRIF account to a surviving spouse should generally occur on a tax-deferred basis. Typically a T4RSP or T4RIF slip and offsetting RRSP deduction slip should be issued in the surviving spouse's name. On a net basis this does not impact the taxable income. However, the slips must be reported on the surviving spouse's income tax return. Each bank reports these transfers slightly differently. If applicable, we suggest discussing the transfer and related slip reporting with the financial institution.

- List of all assets and liabilities on the date of death. We have attached a summary page which may assist in compiling this information.

Did the deceased hold a TFSA on death:

Yes No

If yes:

- What was the value on death: _____
- Who is the beneficiary of the TFSA and their relation to the deceased: _____
